

ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY EVENING, JANUARY 10.

THE "CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT."--It will be seen by reference to the proceedings of the Virginia Legislature that the proposed "Constitutional Amendment," has been rejected by that body; -unanimously in the Senateand with but one vote against the rejection, in the House of Delegates.

In reply to a letter from Mr. N. B. Meade, the State Senator from Frederick county, Gov. H. A. WISE, has written a letter, in which he "enters his protest against the repeal or modification of our usury laws at any time, but at this time particularly, when, he contends, it would prove most disastrous to agricultural productions, and consequently to the trade of our people, almost wholly dependent upon that production." He concludes his letter, which is expressed with much earnestness, and adduces strong arguments against the proposed repeal, as follows:-"My humble advice is to make no experiments now ; - to leave each man to provide individually for himself as best he can, but by all mean not to expese him and his only means, chiefly land, left to the shaver. It would be better for every land proprietor to settle ene-half of his lands by good tenants free of rent for ten years, to cultivate the other to be printed. half for him, at a rent of one-half. This would be better than borrowing money at any rate of per cent. per annum. Debt now is the worst disaster of our people. Do nothing to increase it as you would have our people live and thrive and survive."

It appears that Gen. Grant was present at the Cabinet Meeting where the Veto Message on the District Suffrage bill was discussed, and opinion being asked, "he replied very briefly, be ratified:
Resolved, That the Committee of Resolution which had been urged by that the objection which had been urged by one member of the Cabinet, that it was unconstitutional because it disfranchised rebels without trial, was, in his estimation, the best part of the bill, and exhibited the most wisdom. With reference to conferring the right of suffrage upon the colored people of the District, he remarked that he always thought it inconsistent on the part of Congress to enforce this right here while they refused to grant it to the same class in their own States. Either members of Congress should extend the privilege at home, or wait until the people here asked for it. This was the extent of his expression upon the subject. Upon the arguments and princiopinion whatever."

The Richmond Times says: - "Mr. John B Baldwin, one of the commissioners authorized by the Legislature at its last session to grant, on certain conditions, the charter of the Covington and Ohio Railraod, has received a letter from the New York capitalists, who have been negotiating for the charter, stating that they have now every prospect of being very soon able to comply with all the conditions and take the charter and the road. They have made arrangements for getting the newsary funds to begin and complete the work."

We have received the January number of The Farmer, published in Richmond, by Elliott & Shields, which contains articles on agriculture, of much interest to farmers and plant ers; also, the Southern Boys' and Girls' Monthly, edited by Rev. E. Thompson Baird, and Prof. Wm. Logan Baird, published in Richmond, and devoted to the intellectual and moral culture of the rising generation.

It doesn't seem as if the "Congressional Excursion," has modified, or mollified, the Excursionists, to any perceptible degree. Upon their return they appear to have "gone in" upon us, just as they did before. They found that Senator Wade, was more liked at the North, than ever, for having told the Southern people, they had nothing to hope for, from the magnanimity of Congress!

The Marlboro Gazette says that Mr. Geo. W. Riggs, of Washington city, has erected on his farm, in Bladensburg district, a neat, substantial and convenient School House, and donated it to the Board of School Comissioners of Prince George's county, Md., for the purpose of advancing the cause of Free Schools.

Surratt is on board the U.S. steamer Swatata, which sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, on the 7th, and is expected to reach here about the last of this month.

We believe the press of the State are almost unanimously in favor of the postponement of the Spring elections to next fall.

It will be seen that the bills admitting Nebraska and Colorado, as States, into the Union, passed the Senate, yesterday from Washington, in the Baltimore Sun says:

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON. - A letter "I learn to-night that in Cabinet session, yesterday, the subject of territorializing the Southern States was informally discussed. All the members present, Mr. Stanton included, expressed their decided opposition to the territorial scheme, and deprecated any attempt to disturb the existing State governments in those States." The bill repealing the 13th section of the act to regulate the granting of pardon and amnesty has been received by the President, and will, beyond a doubt, be approved by Mr. Johnson, by the constitution.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times." The President yesterday sent to the Senate, in answer to a resolution, a list of the names of the most prominent persons pardoned, and of those recommending them for pardon. The President stated that it would be impossible to prepare a full list during the present session. A rumer is in circulation at Toronto, Canada, that Head Centre Stephens, offered to the British Government the books of the Fenian Brotherhood if he were allowed to return to Ireland and remain there unmolested.

The New York Times regards the question of Impeachment settled for the present session by its reference to the Committee on the Judiciary.

The jail at Kingston, South Carolina, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Twenty-six of the negro inmates perished in the flames.

The Legislature of Georgia has voted to continue the suspension of specie payments until the 15th of April, 1868.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE. - In the Senate, on Tuesday, House bill to incorporate the Farmers' and Mechanics' Cotton and Woollen Manufactory of Alexandria, was read twice and referred to the Committee on General Laws.

Senator Robinson, from the Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation, reported withcut amendment, Senate bill No. 43, in rela tion to the Petersburg and Richmond and the Petersburg Railroads through the city of Petersburg, which was subsequently taken up and passed.

On motion of Mr. Robinson-That the Board of Public Works be requested to furnish the Senate with a copy of the through tariff of tolls from New York and other Northern cities via the cities of Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, and the Orange and Alexandria and Virginia and Tennessee railroads to Memphis. Tennessee. Also including the through tariff of tolls from Virginia cities on said route to Memphis, and the present local tariff of tolls on the Orange and Alexandria and the Virginia and Tennessee railroads.

On motion of Mr. Ould, Senate bill to exempt the homesteads of families, was ordered

In the House of Delegates, Mr. Robertson presented the petition of certain citizens of Alexandria, concerning the deposit of certain sums of money in the First National Bank of that city.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Dunnington: "Whereas, the people of this Commonwealth are desirous that speedy action should be had upon the amendment proposed by the 39th Congress to the Constitution of the United States; and whereas, it is almost the universal | by Gov. Pierpoint. according to the New York Times, upon his wish that said proposed amendment should not tions of the House of Delegates, to whom the matter has been referred for upwards of thirtydays, be and they are hereby instructed to report immediately to this House on the subject of the proposed amendment, in order that such speedy action may be had, as demanded by the interest and honor of the Commonwealth.'

The House refused to refer the above to the committee by a vote of ayes 34, noes 34, and adopted the resolution by the following vote

Subsequently, Mr. Lewis moved to take up the resolution, and denied that the honor or integrity of the State would be affected by the adoption of the amendment.
Mr. Z. Turner said he would have preferred giving the committee its own time to report, but there was no cause for hesitancy, as not a ples involved in the message he uttered no dozen intelligent men in Virginia had any doubt as to what would be the fate of the amendment in the Virginia Assembly.

Mr. Garnett explained his reasons for not voting on the resolution, which he should opoose at the proper time.

Mr. Wilson endorsed the resolution, and hoped there would, under no circumstances, be any further postponement. The Committee on Resolutions had fixed Wednesday as the period for meeting the Senate Committee and exchanging views

Mr. Keiley opposed the motion to consider. The question was an important one, and had already been acted on by most of the Southern States. There was no room to hope that Congress would, during the brief period which must clapse before the adjournment of the Assembly, take any action favorable to the Southern people. The people of Virginia looked to this body for action on this question, and he hoped that the House would act speedily. Mr. Lewis withdrawing his motion to recon sider; it was renewed by Mr. Z. Turner. Lost by a vote of ayes 17, noes 53.

RICHMOND, VA., January 9.—The Legislature has adopted a joint resolution declining to ratify the constitutional amendment. The vote was unanimous in the Senate, and only one negative in the House.

Among the long standing revolutionary claims which will probably come again to the notice of Congress, during the present session, is that of the heirs of Col. William Grayson. The name is unfamiliar now, but ninety years ago it was a pillar of strength to the American cause. A writer in the National Intelligencer gives the following reminiscence, which will be entirely new to many readers:

"The late John Taliaferro related to me an anecdote, the last time I ever saw him, of Mr. Monroe and Colonel Grayson, that may be repeated. They were both in the Continental Congress, and during the exciting period which has been adverted to, he accompanied the former on horse-back to New York. Late in the afternoon, while on their journey, they arrived at Bladensburg, where they were met by the latter. The patriot statesmen and colonels of the revolution embraced each other affectionately, being the best of friends, and distantly related, and immediately entered into conversation upon national affairs. Colonel Grayson was one of the most fascinating gentlemen in conversation of the time in which he lived, and Mr. Monroe a courteous and attentive listener. As long as he could hold his eyes open, young Taliaferro did not let a word escape his ears, and at a late hour he left them tete-a-tete and pied-a pied before a cheerful seended the stairs and found them in the prechump of the fuel remaining unconsumed. In may have had a happy influence in shaping a nation's destinies."

It may be added that Colonel Grayson was a colleague of Mr. Monroe in the Continental Congress and in the Virginia convention -When the constitution was ratified by the nue laws as to exempt all incomes under $2,100 State, he was elected, with Richard Henry Lee, to the United States Senate. Ill-health, however, compelled him to resign his seat, and and resolutions were introduced and referred. he died soon after. - Balt. Sun.

The handsome cane prepared by the ladies of the Catholic congregation of Norfolk a week or two ago, for Mr. Jefferson Davis, the State beyond a doubt, be approved by Mr. Johnson, inasmuch as he concurs with the opinions expressed by Senator Trumbull and other Senator Very that the section remainded in the section of Norfolk. The Day Book says Mr. Davis actions that the section remainded in the section of Norfolk. tors, that the section named does not amount | cepted the beautiful gift in a brief, eloquent and to anything other than a declaration of the feeling rejoinder, in which he alluded to the powers already conferred upon the Executive kindness of the people of the South to him durling his prison lite.

THE IMPEACHMENT "FIASCO."-The prc-position introduced in Congress to impeach President Johnson meets with very little favor, except among a few radical politicians. The New York Commercial (rep.) strongly opposes the measure, while the New York Post, (also republican,) in a plea to Congress, is really fearful that the democratic party may be made successful by the folly of the republicans in

I send you an extract of a recent letter from Alabama, as showing, the condition of things in that State. Can the members of Congress be acting knowingly of the true position of the cotton planters, and the colored race in the South? If they persevere in their present course, the Northern manufacturers must soon look to Liverpool for their supplies, or "shut up shop."

"If Congress succeeds in destroying the South, they will ultimately destroy their own people. They cannot hurt us much more than we are already; and we can afford to wait pa-

This season instead of being a happy season has become the most trying time of the year on a plantation. These are, indeed, uncertain times. We retire to rest at night, and on rising in the morning, never know if we are to have a servant to get our breakfast. I have as yet made no contracts with the servants for another year. Our best land will deteriorate every year, particularly our low lands and sloughs. With the freedmen we are not able to keep our ditches up and open. They are very fearful these times of "getting their feet wet." Our best land is fast going back to its original swamps. You can hardly ride on horseback where you have seen cotton picked in

I have faith in cotton improving in price, notwithstanding the fall in gold, for nothing changes my estimate of 130,000 bales as the crop of 1866. We are too poor to buy goods, and we live as economical as we did in war times. After paying last year's hires, "I am without any money.'

It is situated on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, which runs through the estate, at 35 miles from Alexandria; and is called "Bushy Ridge Plantation." There are supposed to be about 400 acres of timber land, averaging about 20 cords per acre; and the rest is in various states of cultivation.

There is a good FRAME HOUSE, built since the war. The fencing, about half, latetroops-requires to be repaired.

There are many springs of right good water: of which one, never failing, is laid on with pipe to the kitchen. If not so d shortly, the farm will be let, at a money rent, to a responsible tenant, with good sureties; or the advertiser would exchange the estate for good city property, of equal value, in Alexandria, Washington or Georgetown. If sold for payment by installments, the usual stipulation will be required, and prohibiting the cutting of timber, (except for farm and domestie purposes) until the payment of the last in-stallment, when the title, quite perfect, will be transferred to the purchaser. For further particulars address Dr. EDWARD KING. Catlett's Station, P. O., O. & A. R. R.
